

Bad Investment Coin

Whitepaper Bad Investment Coin: A Unique Memecoin

1. Introduction

In the past few years, we have seen a rise in meme coins, many of which promote the idea that they will bring investors financial gain. The Bad Investment Coin token was created using a more unorthodox approach, aiming to convey the concept of financial loss. Not every day is a token released that expresses the idea of an investor losing their investment. Bad Investment Coin was created by a teenager interested in seeing how the token's name would impact the token's success.

2. Tokenomics

The total supply of Bad Investment Coin is 100 Trillion $BAD tokens, which will be initially distributed to the contract owner. The contract owner plans to use 40 Trillion $BAD tokens to create a liquidity pool on the DEX Uniswap. Additionally, no $BAD coins will be able to be minted after the initial distribution and $BAD will be burnable. Bad Investment Coin is an ERC-20 token built on Ethereum.

3. Conclusion

Bad Investment Coin is an ERC-20 Token meme coin built on Ethereum. It aims to establish a community that finds its satirical nature amusing.
